

Materials: Post-Experiment Questionnaire

GERNSBACHER, M. A., Raimond, R. A., Balinghasay, M. T., & Boston, J. S. (2016) "Special needs" is an ineffective euphemism.

1. The month and year of my birth are

Month [drop down menu with options: January-December]

Year [drop down menu with options 1900-1995]

Do not wish to say

2. The country in which I have lived during most of the past five years is [drop down menu with options including Do not wish to say]

3. English is my native language.

Yes

No

Do not wish to say

4. I primarily identify as male gender female gender

both male and female gender outside the gender binary (e.g., gender neutral, genderfluid, other-gendered, no gender)

do not wish to say

5. Check all statements that apply

I am a university or college student.

I am a parent of elementary-school age children.

I am a teacher of elementary-school age children.

I am a middle-age adult.

I am middle-age adult, and some of my work responsibilities include supervising other people.

None of the above

Do not wish to say

6. Check all statements that apply.

- I am a person with a disability.
- I am the parent of a child with a disability.
- I am a relative of a person with a disability.
- I am a co-worker of a person with a disability.
- I am good friends with a person with a disability.
- I work with children who have disabilities.
- I work with adults who have disabilities.
- None of the above
- Do not wish to say

7. When I hear the term “special needs,” the first few thoughts that come to my mind are

---

---

---

---

---

8. When I hear the term “has a disability” or “has disabilities,” the first few thoughts that come to my mind are

---

---

---

---

---